

Diamond 9 National Skills Clinics were designed to provide opportunities for the individual athlete to receive hands on instruction from a wide variety of college coaches. Small group settings, broken down by defensive specialities, allow for more personalized teaching and direct feedback. Hitting is a major focus throughout the clinic day utilizing front toss, live pitching and tee/drill work to key in on all aspects of hitting fundamentals. All clinic participants will have the opportunity to compete in live games at the end of the day, coached by our college coaches, providing an excellent stage to display their talent and coachability. These clinics have grown to become a great recruiting tool for both athletes and coaches alike.
